L.G. Lighting District Boundaries Rejected

SAN DIEGO (CNS) — Plans for formation of a Lemon Grove Lighting District suffered a setback Tuesday when the County Boundary Commission rejected the descriptions of the proposed boundaries of the district.

Rudolph Benitez, acting engineer for the commission, told commissioners that there were so many errors in the descriptions that he thought it better for him not to try to correct them.

"The recommendation is," Benitez said, "that this proposal be returned to the proponents with the corrections marked on one submitted description for them to review, correct and then discuss with the boundary commission engineer."

Commissioners asked where the general area proposed for the district is, and Benitez said it is to be on both sides of Broadway, from Grove street to Olive street. He added that it is to be in two sections, with Imperial avenue to divide them.

The commission ordered the descriptions returned to the proponents, with Benitez to discuss the corrections with them and then arrange for a proper set of boundaries to be submitted later.

The L.G. chamber of commerce is the sponsoring organization.

Corn Pone Beckons But Law Says Wait

John Jasper Thornton, 18, homesick for corn pone and side meat that is best obtained in his home town of Decatur, Alabama, found a long detour would prevent him from enjoying the deep-south staples for a while.

Here for three weeks when the nostalgia hit, Thornton closed a service station at which he was employed, took $95 from the register, $40 of which he claimed was due him, and his sister's car.

The latter, not being in too good a state of repair, brought him the suggestion of taking along a sort of king-sized repair kit. He loaded the car with cans of oil, tires, innertubes, fan belts, spark plugs, radiator hoses and the like.

All went well until Thornton became involved in the LG-SV freeway system and at midnight he became lost on Campo rd., Spring Valley.

He stopped at the Golden Bowl to ask directions just as a sheriff's unit rolled by. A member of the unit observed an unusual combination of an Alabama license plate bolted over one from California, it usually being the other way around.

"How come?" the sheriff's deputies asked.

The answer took him on the detour to the sheriff's substation.

BURNED UP — This is how the garage at the rear of 3488 Grove st. in Lemon Grove looked following a fire believed set by the recent occupant of the cabin in front. The blaze, which occurred at about 8:15 p.m. on Aug. 12 also damaged overhead powerlines. The structure was a total loss.

George Allen Morrisette, 63, who Morrisette is wanted is under suspicion for having set a building ablaze at 3488 Grove st., Lemon Grove Sunday.

He was allowed to occupy rent free a cabin on the property which is owned by Mrs. Mary J. Nelson of La Mesa in exchange for yard work.

He demanded paint and tools to work with from a visitor to an adjoining house. Morrisette became belligerent when the visitor denied any connection with the property and threatened to "set a match to it and then I'll leave."

In the cabin where the suspect lived firemen and police found a large number of wine bottles.

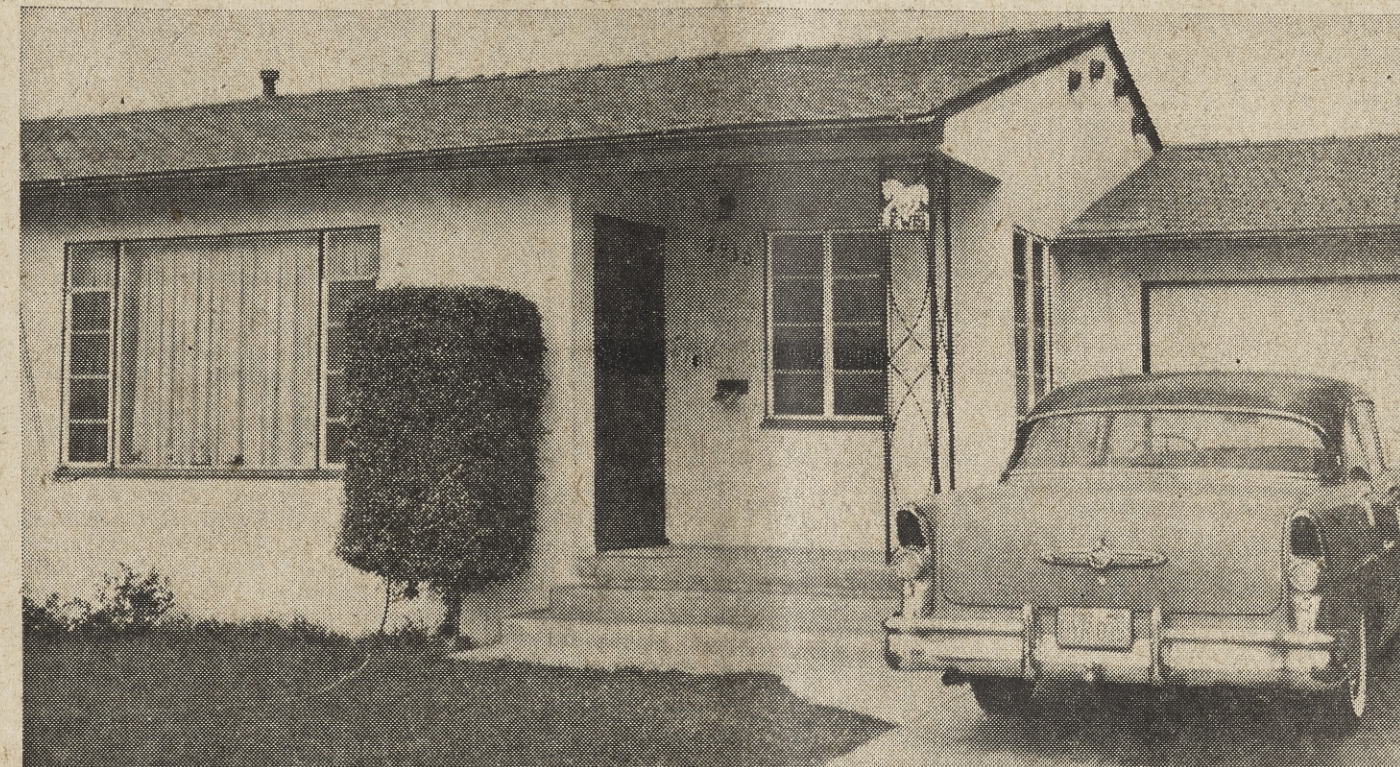

The sheriff's department found, among their own rec-

CD Control Passes To VFW In L.G.

Control over Lemon Grove area civil defense will pass over to the Lemon Grove V.F.W. effective September 1, it was announced this week by C. J. "Skip" Heidick, local civil defense director.

Heidick, who has participated in local CD affairs for six years, four as director, said that the changeover would take place after a ceremony August 22 at the L.G. Youth Center where CD material and supplies are presently stored.

The local CD headquarters will continue to function from the youth center. An orderly transition of records will take place prior to the changeover.

Lists of local residents who have completed the CD courses at county headquarters at Gillespie Field will be transferred to the VFW CD organization, Heidick said.

Heidick, a regular army reserve officer, relinquished his post because of the changed nature of his business which requires him to be out of town frequently. He said he felt a better continuity of CD work could best be served by those who are not subject to Armed Forces recall.

He has offered to serve as a subordinate to VFW Commander Hibbard Stubbs. Time of the changeover ceremony will be announced later.

State Failed In Family Fallout Protection, Says Hegland

Assemblyman Sheridan Hegland, (D-77th) told members of the L.G. Rotary club Monday that the assembly had erred in not taking steps to protect California citizens against the dangers of fall-out should a nuclear war come.

He said that three things the state might have done was to 1. require twice a year civil defense exercises by all school children; 2. establish certain buildings as primitive fallout shelters, and 3. require new public buildings to be designed so that fallout shelter conversion would be inexpensive and fast.

Hegland said that eight of nine states studying fallout shelter programs had rejected taking positive action for the proper protection of its people so far this year.

The federal government has not provided its citizens with a fallout protection program, he pointed out.

Bow Stealing Charged To Lemon Grove Man

SAN DIEGO (CNS)—A Lemon Grove man charged with stealing $200 worth of archery bows and equipment from a La Mesa optometrist pleaded guilty Tuesday in Superior Court.

Robert Steiner, 32, of 3510 Harris St., L.G., was arrested on July 23, in Cedar City, Utah and returned to California to answer charges that he stole 40 archery bows from the office of Dr. Jack Gruss, 7868 La Mesa Blvd. on March 30.

Dr. Gruss stated that Steiner had been in his office about three weeks before the burglary and had asked him to set a price on the bows. Steiner had not contacted him since that time, Gruss said.

According to a police report Steiner denied the charge and claimed he bought all the archery equipment at a swap-meet in El Cajon. He was unable, however, to furnish the police with a description of the person from whom he allegedly bought the equipment.

Judge Ronald Abernethy set the trial for October 13.

Double Funeral Rites Take Place Following Tragic Murder-Suicide

A double funeral service was held at 3 p.m. Tuesday for Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Lewis, a Lemon Grove couple discovered dead in their home early Saturday morning.

Police said Mr. Lewis, 46, an engineer with Staite Engineering, Inc., a dock repair firm, had shot his wife, 37, and then himself at about 9 p.m. Friday after having been served divorce papers that day. They lived at 2930 Main st. in Lemon Grove.

Mrs. Ray Dabler of La Mesa, mother of Mrs. Lewis, said no animosity has been expressed toward her son-in-law. Services were in the Chapel of Prayer at Cypress View Mausoleum and interment in the Chapel of Memories there.

The Lewis couple was discovered at 5 a.m. on Aug. 12 by their son, 17-year-old Ronald Barry Lewis, who readied his newspapers for delivery on their porch every morning. He said the television was buzzing and the lights were on. Entering the house, he found them dead and lying in pools of blood in their bedroom, he told police.

Ronald, a Mt. Miguel high school married student of 456 Maple st. in La Mesa, said he called the sheriff's department, then relatives, after finding the bodies of his mother and father. He used the phone in the Lewis house.

The family had been in the San Diego area since 1946 and in Lemon Grove for about five years.

Mrs. Dabler said she had seen Mr. Lewis earlier on the night of the shooting and that he had seemed adjusted to the idea of the divorce. She called him "a very devoted father."

The fourth member of the Lewis family, 15-year-old Carol, spent the night with a friend. She said she had called her parents shortly before 9 p.m. and that everything seemed okay.

Detective Donald Bender of the San Diego police department's crimes of violence division, said that as far as police could determine only the neighbors next door heard the shots from a .30-caliber rifle, the death weapon, which is owned by the son.

The neighbors, the Dean Wardells of 2940 Main st., were watching television, they told police. When they heard the sound of gunshots, they couldn't tell for sure the direction the shots came from or that the sounds weren't a car back-firing.

PARENTS QUARRELED

Ronald told police that his parents had been quarreling recently. He was the only one who mentioned any outward sign of dissension between his mother and father.

Mrs. Lewis had completed a nursing aide's course last fall and had been working at Grossmont hospital since the latter part of last year. She had been known as a wonderful mother, Mrs. Dabler said.

Both she and her husband had been members of a bowling team at the Lemon Grove Bowlero, and the Carman Ranch club. They had been married 21 years.

Planners Delay OK On L.G. Rest Home

SAN DIEGO (CNS)—Action on a proposed $3,000,000, 230-bed "senior citizen" development in Lemon Grove Friday was delayed for two weeks by the County Planning Commission to decide how the project fits into existing county laws.

The applicant for a special use permit was Monte Vista Lodge, Inc. The corporation proposes to build on a seven-acre parcel bounded by McKnight drive, Madera street, Massachusetts avenue and Mt. Vernon street.

Robert Berrey, deputy county counsel, said that the application was filed for a rest home permit, but that the operation seemed to be more that

Retired Rancher Stallings Dies In SD Hospital

Services were held for George S. Stallings, 78, a retired rancher of 7561 Roosevelt St., Lemon Grove, on Tuesday at 11 a.m. He had lived in this area for 25 years and died August 12 in a San Diego hospital.

A native of Wilcox, Ariz., Mr. Stallings had been a rancher in Imperial Valley, where he'd moved in 1906.

Do you plan a fallout shelter?

Mrs. L. J. Ouellette, housewife, 7325 Beryl st., Lemon Grove:

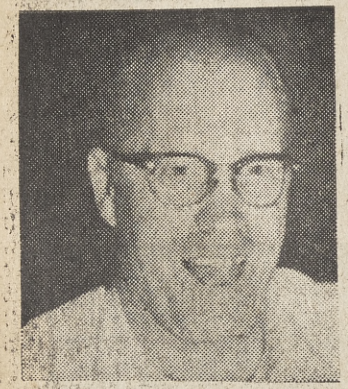

Mrs. L. J. Ouellette.

"No, but we are preparing our hallway as a place for safety in case this area is bombed. Already we have blankets and medical supplies there and we plan to bring in provisions and water. It's the best that we can do right now."

"I think people in this area would be well off to use their hallways for shelter if they can do nothing else. If the bomb didn't hit too close, the hallway would function as a shelter. My husband and I believe that more information should be given out in connection with civil defense. We don't believe in causing a panic over the matter but the current complacency needs to be dispelled."

Ted Fettes, owner-manager of Pal's at Lester and Imperial, 3445 Vista ave., Lemon Grove:

Ted Fettes

"Yes, under our house. Our son and his family live near us in Lemon Grove and we plan a mutual fallout shelter. It will be large enough for 12 people and we hope to have it completed by December."

"There's no place more in danger than the San Diego area. But many people won't be able to put in their own shelters. I believe this problem can be solved by people on the same block going in together to build maybe one or two shelters for everyone on the block. The guy who couldn't pitch in anyway, could do so with his labor, and vice-versa."

Mrs. Molly Roberts, housewife, 9222 Olive dr., Spring Valley:

Mrs. Molly Roberts

"No, but if we had our own home we would probably give it serious thought. However, I think the next war, if it occurs, will be a conventional one and I believe that if a nuclear war did occur, both Russia and the U.S. would be obliterated, making shelters useless."

"Another objection I have to a fallout shelter is that it would cost too much. I think nothing short of a good concrete shelter would suffice, and that a tunnel underground or some other substitute would be useless. I would be very interested in learning more about fallout shelters and civil defense."

Pat Allsman, food and beverage retailer, 3595 Olive st., Lemon Grove:

"I live in a trailer park and there is practically nothing that could be done there toward making a fallout shelter—at least on an individual basis. I would make more preparation for a nuclear war, which I think seems to be drawing nearer and nearer, if I owned my own home."

Waiting until the loot was removed, the unit traced the youths to the home of Clarence Arthur Collins, 17, 7105 Boulevard dr., VLM. More than $100 worth of merchandise was recovered, much of it being from the VLM Variety store burglarized August 7. Turner had no knowledge of the burglary.

A search of the bushes produced two telephones, any knowledge of which the youths denied.

Collins became belligerent when the unit started to take him to juvenile hall and tried to escape and he hit Deputy Carlton Burnworth. Considerable force had to be exerted to subdue Collins. Turner was released to his parents.

At the same time they broke mirrors, headlights, windshield, turn indicator and tail-light of Robert Edward Miller, 18, of 5021 Mt. Vernon, L.G. is allegedly the ringleader of a band of L.G. and S.V. juveniles which has been engaging in a long series of petty thefts in the area. He was arrested at his home August 10 at 10:40 p.m. by the sheriff's department. Arrested earlier in the evening were three 16-year-old members of his gang.

CHASES GUNMAN

Spring Valley Man Relates How He Helped Nab Robber

A 21-year-old Spring Valley man helped police apprehend a youth who robbed a Boston market of $1,200 at gunpoint on Sunday, Aug. 6, shortly after 9 p.m.

He is Robert A. Burroughs, an employee of Lemon Grove Motors who lives with his wife, Verna, and family at 3578 Hix st. He had recently taken his patrolman exam at the San Diego police department.

Sunday night, Burroughs walked up to the Speedee-Mart just as the 20-year-old robber, a boy from Pacific Beach, tore out the front door making his getaway. Burroughs held his 22-month-old daughter, La Donna.

Burroughs said: "We were visiting friends in Boston and I took the girl with me to the store to get soft drinks for the whole group."

GIRL ALMOST HURT

"When the excited robber crashed through the door, it swung out hard and almost hit La Donna. This little incident, the first in a staccato series to happen in the next few moments, made me boiling mad. In that instant, I didn't even know who the guy was or what he'd done."

"As the robber went off into the darkness at the side of the building, a very upset woman appeared at the door with a gun in her hand. She started yelling that the man had held her up and to stop him."

"Quickly, I put my daughter down and took the woman's gun, starting out after the robber. Immediately I spotted him. He wasn't even running."

"I shouted for him to halt. He didn't. I raised the gun to fire but it didn't go off. Then the boy ran. I stopped to recollect the gun and then started chasing him."

(Burroughs lettered in among other distances, the 100 yard dash at Mt. Miguel High School.)

GUN USELESS

"Several times more I tried to shoot the man but it just wouldn't work. The boy seemed very slow on foot and I decided to close in on him and try to bring him down by throwing the gun at him."

"Yet thinking he must have his gun ready for use I hesitated to get too near although I could easily have caught him. Not far from his car I dropped my gun and had to stop to pick it up."

"Amazingly fast he jumped into his car and took off. He 'dug out' so fast that the rear wheels spewed dirt over me. Nevertheless, I saw the car well enough to identify it later, and both the lady at the market and myself had seen the boy well enough to later identify him in a line-up at the police station."

WORRIED ABOUT GIRL

"One thing I should mention is that during this rapid series of incidents I kept worrying about La Donna. Her peril at the very beginning when the door had nearly struck her had angered me and upset her. As I ran away I yelled back to the woman to watch my girl. For one thing, I was afraid she might wander into the street. I kept worrying about her during the pursuit. I could hear her crying."

ROBBER PURSUER — Robert A. Burroughs arrived on a robbery scene in Bostonia just as the gunman was making off with $1,200. Burroughs left his 22-month-old daughter with the store owner, took the owner's gun and gave chase. When the robber got away in a car, Burroughs returned to his car and sped after him. He didn't catch the robber but what he saw helped police make an early capture. Staff photo.

"But when I got back to the market I found that she had been well taken care of. She was eating ice cream and drinking pop the woman had given her. The woman was calling the El Cajon police department."

Burroughs further described the evening as follows:

When he got back to the store, he wasn't finished yet. He then got into his car and tried to give chase. He spotted the robbery car on Magnolia street after going down Broadway, but there were too many cars between them. He returned to the market and the police had arrived. He told them everything and the robber was caught within half an hour at his apartment. The loot was in two bags in the car, a 1950 Studebaker the robber had borrowed from a friend.

At the El Cajon police station Burroughs looked over mug books but the robber wasn't on file. Later Burroughs identified the car and the robber, helping police rapidly elicit the case.

Burroughs said that he didn't have time to really think about what had happened until later. When he got goose pimples with the realization that he might have been shot.

"But I wasn't afraid at the time," he said. "I felt the situation called for immediate action and I tried to do what was right."

Being a hero is a new experience for Burroughs, he said, and he's been kidded about it as well as admired. For example, when he was at the El Cajon police station he met a friend who is a reserve police officer.

After the friend heard why he was there, Burroughs said, the friend remarked: "You don't mean to say that you're the stupid idiot who chased that robber!"

by Jimmy Hoffa on television some weeks before. Hoffa gave the appearance of a man harranging about his dictatorship of slaves.

Quimby is well-known for his sensible attitude in labor activities. When he said that it was proper for labor to show appreciation for those who contribute to labor, he did labor a further favor.

When Hoffa finished his teevee speech in which he threatened government, management, and even labor, he left the nation in a stench of acrimony from which it may never recover.

When Quimby said his organization was grateful for an opportunity to say "thank-you" for the new union-movie record employment, we thought labor and management had come a step closer together.

Nothing but closer steps would result if some of the union bosses would say "thank you" just once in a while.

Quimby did. No one accuses Quimby of being soft nor of not properly representing his people.

They merely accuse him of being a respectable human being.

Faris Sets Strikeout Record In Spring Valley Little League

by Elaine Horowitz

In a tight game with DeFalcus Aug. 10, Tom Faris of Watson's Richfield set a new record for the league when he struck out 15 men in a single game.

August 7 found the Spacers winning over Midget Market, 10-3. The winning pitcher was Fred Madrano. The Spacers scored all 10 of their runs in the first inning, but couldn't get with it after that. Mike Garrison of Midget Market scored a three-bagger during this one.

On Aug. 8 the Solars scored 15 runs, the Astros, 6. Bobby Albright, winning pitcher, pitched a no-hitter, all runs for the Astros being scored on walks.

SCORE IS 21-7

On Aug. 9 Watson's Richfield won over Noble's 21-7. Dick Favorite was credited with the win. Tom Faris was the big bat for Watson's, scoring four hits out of five times up. On Aug. 10 Watson's Richfield lost to DeFalcus 4-3. The winning pitcher, Ricky Lewis, received an assist from Larry Deason in the last of the 6th.

Deason came in with the bases loaded, and preserved the win for DeFalcus. During this game, Faris set his single game strikeout record. Barclay Cobb came through with a three base hit for Watson's.

August 11, the Cosmics won over the Meteors for the first time this season, with a score of 9-4. Steve Bailey, the winning pitcher, struck out 10 men. Mike Symons scored a double.

DEFALCOS WIN

The first game on Aug. 12 found DeFalcus the winners over Spring Valley Estates with a score of 6-3. Larry Deason, winning pitcher, also scored a two bagger.

The second game of the day, Astros vs. Meteors, found Astros winning 17-3. Clyde Gary was winning pitcher, and Dick Brady was the Astros' big bat of the day. He drove in six runs with two triples and a double. Dave Ryan of the Meteors scored a triple.

The third game of the day was the last game of the season for the Spring Valley Merchants and Noble's Market. The Merchants won 12-11. The Merchants gave up 16 bases on balls and Noble's, 22. Each team came through with a doubleplay; the Merchants was Mingus to Schuff, Noble's was Knight to Larson to Cramer.

The Cosmics came out in first place for the second half in the Minors and Ferry Brothers Concrete for the Majors. Ferry Bros. were therefore eligible for the district play-offs held at the Spring Valley Little League field this week.

Area Women Form Local Air Group

Five Lemon Grove Spring Valley women became charter members of the newly formed El Cajon Valley chapter of the Ninety-Nines. Two of them were elected as officers.

The Ninety-Nines is an organization of licensed women pilots who promote aviation among women and aviation safety generally. They sponsor an annual transcontinental air race (powder puff derby); air markings to guide pilots, and Wing Scouts of the Girl Scouts organization.

Of the eleven charter members Harriet Allen and Barbara Tucker are Spring Valley residents. Dottie Davis, Isabelle McRae and Boo (Anna) Christensen are from Lemon Grove. Mrs. McRae and Mrs. Christensen were elected vice president and secretary, respectively.

The charter will be given the group at a joint meeting September 1 with the San Diego chapter of the Ninety-Nines. Mrs. McRae and Alleen Saunders will be co-chairmen of the evening's program.

Grand Jury To Peek At Sups' Bank Accounts

SAN DIEGO (CNS)—An investigation into the personal affairs of members of the County Board of Supervisors is being conducted by the County Grand Jury.

The inquiry is now going into the bank accounts, campaign contributions and travel expenses of board members. It was touched off by the disclosure during an investigation of the purchase of the Kearney Mesa site for the operations center that Supervisor Frank A. Gibson had accepted two crates of oranges from C. W. Carlstrom, who sold the land to the county, and that Carlstrom and his wife and Gibson had made a trip together to Las Vegas.

The grand jury then criticized the Supervisors for their purchase of the Carlstrom land, excepting only Board member Robert C. Dent, who voted against buying the land.

The current investigation, stemming out of the first one, is believed aimed at trying to determine if Board members have been influenced by personal friendships or campaign contributions in their decisions on zoning, contracts or special use permits.

No information from the grand jury members can be obtained, but newsmen stationed at Civic Center have seen a number of persons who have had dealings with the county appear at the grand jury chambers.

Reportedly, the grand jury is seeking to determine if special interests get favorable consideration.

COMMUNITY PORTRAIT THROUGH READERS' LETTERS

"Letters to the Editor" tell the editor whether his news paper is being read or not. Whether the writer agrees with the editor is beside the point, but a reaction of one sort or another is a desirable commodity.

We proudly present herewith one of the largest aggregations of readers written letters in the history of this newspaper.

The letters represent a goodly cross-section of our readers' viewpoints.

We extend to each reader an invitation to write. Letters must be signed but names will be withheld upon request.

The Editor

Dear Editor:

I read your recent editorial concerning welfare problems. I thought you might be interested in what we are doing here in Wasco in this matter.

We have something, which I believe, is somewhat unique in welfare aid. Wasco has its own welfare organization. This is not true of communities the size of ours (7000) for the most part. Once a year we have a fund drive, a house-to-house canvass, along with a canvass of the business establishments. This usually nets us enough to keep the program going for another year.

The welfare organization is made up of representatives from civic and religious organizations in the city. The actual program is in the hands of a Board of Trustees, who meet monthly. Each annual meeting four new trustees are elected (1/4 of the total). The Board then elects its own president and secretary, treasurer, etc.

I have been president now for several years, and have been responsible for all aid given. Whenever someone comes for help, either a long-time resident, or perhaps a transient, if the need is legitimate, I usually write an order (making triplicate copies). The order may be for food, or overnight lodging, or gasoline, etc. I never give out money. I merely write these orders to local establishments, and at the end of the month the treasurer picks up a copy from me and goes about the community paying the bills. All money spent goes back into the community merchants; nothing leaves here.

CO-OP WITH WELFARE

We are not a county agency, but cooperate with the county welfare. For instance, each year, during the winter months, the county comes in to the community with federal surplus commodities. We furnish the building and some secretarial help in the distribution program. No one on our board receives a penny of compensation. Every cent given to the welfare program is used for welfare purposes; there is no overhead.

This past winter the need for assistance was greater than ever, at least for many years. We were giving out, during a three month period, over $300 in food, lodging and gasoline orders primarily. I knew that our money could not hold out at that rate; so—necessity becomes the mother of invention. I realized that there were those who were using us; the word was out that Wasco was a soft spot. In order to get rid of the chiselers, we finally came up with a work plan, offering help to those who were willing to work for what they got. Of course, in some instances this could not be applied—when a mother is left at home because father has been put in jail, etc. One could not expect the mother, usually with a house-full of little ones, to look for work. But in most instances during the winter months before much work opens up again, we can put these people to work at jobs in the community, cleaning up, etc. at the minimum wage rate. For the work done they return to me for a food order, etc.

TEMPORARY AID
Don't let me confuse you—our help is supposed to be emergency help only. We cannot carry a family for any length of time. Our help is given until other more permanent help arrives from county agencies or when the emergency is over. Most help is for one or two weeks. Occasionally we find ourselves helping out in a situation with a number of orders. Our is for an emergency mostly.

The work plan was enthusiastically received by everyone. We felt that it might cut down as much as 50 per cent in the cries for assistance, and at the same time help those who really need aid, to maintain their own self respect by working for what they received. We believe also that the public response to the welfare drive this year will be much better since the public will see that those who administer their funds are trying to do the best they can and are not being used by everyone who wants a hand-out.

But a real problem presented itself when we began discussing putting these people to work—"What about compensation in case of accident?" was the question frequently asked. "Who would be responsible?" I thought that this problem would finally kill the program, because no civic or other non-profit organization putting these people to work wanted to risk being sued. To make a long story short, after talking at length with the Workmen's Compensation people, we found his new law which fits our situation perfectly.

It is found in the California Labor Code, Section 3352, Subsection C, and reads as follows: Any person performing services in return for aid or subsistence only, received from any religious, charitable or relief organization, is not entitled to Workmen's Compensation. This comes under the "Employee Exclusion section."

We are going to have all applicants read the exclusion clause before they go out to work; so that if they have any ideas of getting hurt, they'll think twice.

WIDE SUPPORT

The plan is now in operation and is supported by our city fathers, the recreation district and other non-profit organizations to whom we may send an occasional worker.

A statement of policy was worked out by our board of directors which goes like this:

"It is the opinion of the board of directors that an emergency work program be made a part of the total welfare program of the Wasco Community Welfare Association."

A. The worth and dignity of the individual shall be the motivating force behind the operation of the plan.

B. All work performed shall be at a rate not to exceed the minimum legal wage. Payment to be made by purchase order (no money transaction).

C. The president of the welfare association shall determine when and how the program can be used for the best possible solution to a welfare problem."

In a rather humorous case since the plan was started, I had a man come into my office for food. I sent him to the labor camp to work in a clean-up program. When he was through, he decided he didn't need the help, and he said, "Give it to charity, give it to charity." We think that as he worked and saw the little migrant children about the facilities, his conscience began working on him and he decided to donate his time???

D.D. Note: The Rev. Pueschel's well known to many area residents. He once served the First Congregational Church in Lemon Grove.

Dear Editor:
As you know, San Diego State College is growing at a tremendous rate. This growth is producing a great variety of graduates in many fields.

Being a Placement Center we come in contact with many graduates and students who are interested in putting their talents to work.

Should you, or any employer in your circulation area, have personnel needs that a recent graduate or a student (on a part-time basis) could fill, perhaps we can be of service.

The San Diego State College Placement Center assists firms, agencies and private citizens in locating qualified individuals to fill various job vacancies.

Over two-thirds of the students at San Diego State earn part or all of their way through college. Last year, over 5,000 referrals were made by the Placement Center while attempting to find part-time employment for the more than 10,000 students enrolled in the institution. They filled such part-time jobs as accountants, babysitter, cashier, draftsman, gardener, laboratory technician, painter, salesman, teacher's aid, tutor, etc.

ROOSTERS TO ELECTRONICS

Some of the unusual part-time placements were a request for four boys to dress in rooster costumes and hand out gifts for a local oil company (Hancock). In contrast, a scientific and electronics firm wanted a senior electrical engineer to do research for their firm. Another request was filled for a college professor to conduct a seminar on merchandising and a student to follow-up and write advertisements for the merchants of that area.

Full-time employment placements are as varied as the 86 major and minor curricula allow. Over a thousand San Diego State graduates sought full-time placement assistance through the Placement Center last year. Besides placements in the technical fields, including engineering, chemistry and mathematics, there were graduates in education and business. Majors in business sought employment in accounting, banking and finance, business management, insurance, marketing, personnel management, real estate and secretarial management.

Many part-time workers begin at $1.25 and the more trained individuals receive as high as $3 an hour. The inexperienced college graduate who fills a full-time job will start at around $400 a month and some will command $750 a month, particularly if they have a Master's degree.

Sincerely,
Will M. Kidwell

Dear Editor:

I am writing this letter to thank you for the very fine coverage which you gave to the recent biology field trip made by Grossmont Union High School District students to Bahia Los Angeles. The trip to Bahia Los Angeles is perhaps the high spot in the continuing effort of our school district to provide quality education to its students. Without your help in providing understanding to the citizens of our community it would be impossible for us to provide good education.

I am sure that as I have talked with both parents and students the appreciation and, perhaps more important, the motivation for additional work in science more than compensates for the efforts of all who worked on this project. Who knows but that because of this project a future Audubon or Jensen may be forthcoming?

I think all of us have learned a great deal about how to organize such undertakings. This, of course, is true of whatever one does. I am particularly impressed with the possibilities of using community people in this kind of endeavor.

Since the trip, we have had an opportunity to meet personally with all of the parents and students. The reaction has been tremendous. Some of the slides and other materials produced by students are excellent. In particular, one boy has developed a 12 minute sound motion picture on the trip. This is available through my office for private or service club showings. Once again, thanks for all of your help in this wonderful project.

Sincerely,
John T. Warburton
Assistant Superintendent
Grossmont Union High School District

Dear Editor:

Having bought a home in Lemon Grove ten years ago, and having been actively involved in Scouting, PTA, local politics, PTF, Grossmont Community Concert Assn., teaching piano for the San Diego Conservatory of Music, and together teaching the Junior High Sunday School class for five years at Skyline Wesleyan Methodist Church, and being connected with a local retail store, we have put down some very deep roots. We came here with four children ranging from two to fourteen years of age. Two have graduated from High School and one from Junior High, with one entering the sixth grade at Monterey Heights Elementary School this fall.

Now we come to an event in our lives we would like to share with our friends—our Silver Wedding. This will be held at the Skyline Wesleyan Methodist Church, Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, August 20, 1961. The pastors Rev. Orval Butcher and Derric Johnson will be assisted by the father of the "bride", Rev. David I. Scott, who performed the marriage 25 years ago in Huntington Park.

Soloists will be Pastor Butcher and Mrs. Winthrop Howe, who served as flower girl in the original bridal party. She is a sister of the "bride". Instrumentalists will be Mrs. Hilda Mason, piano, and Mr. Otis Skillings of Youth For Christ, on the organ.

Honored guests will include Mr. and Mrs. John Spisak, parents of the "groom", Rev. and Mrs. David Scott, parents of the "bride", and other relatives from the Los Angeles area. The processional will include the seating of these guests.

Our attendants will be our children. Daughters: Melissa, 11, Sondra, 14, and Charlene Raser, 24. As our son, David, is a PFC with the Army in Heidelberg, Germany, he will be represented by his fiancée, Miss Joanna Brown, 20. Flower girl is Cindy Green, 4, a niece. Ring-bearer is our grandson Mark Raser, 2. The two young girls will wear bouffant silk organza over cotton satin. The two older girls will wear brocade sheaths. The gowns are baby blue, and will be accented with pink gloves and pink corsage-bouquets carried on their personal Bibles. During the reception that follows (this is a gift from the Christian Crusaders Junior High Sunday School class we taught together for five years) the flowers will be transferred to the shoulders of the gowns.

We would be delighted to share this candle-light event with our Lemon Grove friends, including our friend The Editor of San Diego County's Number One community newspaper.

Yours for God-centered homes in thriving communities,
Charles and Sue Spisak
(Mrs. Spisak is executive director of Goodwill Industries)

Dear Editor:

Just a short note to thank you for the nice news article in the "Bulletin" about our Board meeting and Backyard Swim program.

We really appreciate your coverage and cooperation. I can imagine what a job it must be keeping up with all the local news items, and keeping all the PTA's happy.

Since we have a certain quota to live with, I hope we can provide you with something newsworthy enough each month to meet your requirement.

Any suggestion you can offer us will be gratefully accepted.

If we can all work together in our own capacities, possibly we can help our young people grow to maturity with less difficulty, and help them face whatever lies ahead of them in the future with both feet on the ground, and a good home and community behind them.

We certainly all need to pray about it and work harder at it. Thanks again for your help with our group.

Sincerely,
Anita Gurling, president
Casa de Oro PTA,
Spring Valley

Dear Editor:

There is at present a capable, well qualified, and enthusiastic labor force available to the employers of this area by simply dialing a phone. This group has training in mechanical, electrical, clerical, photographic, and many other lines of endeavor. This group is the youth of the community. Young men and women with a natural enthusiasm, which when channelled into a productive pursuit, are capable of a high output of quality goods or services.

Young people with learning ability, and enthusiasm are available through the Foothills Youth Employment Office for the Grossmont Union High School District by calling HO 5-3131, Ext. 216. This office is open throughout the year.

Very truly yours,
Mrs. Irma Harding
Youth Placement Officer

Dear Editor:

Thank you for listing the names of deputy registrars of voters under the headline "PTA Survey finds 2,800 Unregistered parents in Locale."

This confirms the fact that you did have in hand the copy that I turned in—but I do believe you must have misplaced a part of it—or misunderstood what you read!

While it is hoped that all parents are members of PTA—it has not been the aim of this survey to conduct a membership drive for PTA, which is how the article might read to some.

PTA volunteers did do a survey of the unregistered "Parent Voters" and they did contact these parents. PTA volunteers did contact deputy registrars in the area and pass along names of the unregistered parents to the deputy registrars, who have been appointed by Mr. Chas. Sexton the Registrar of Voters.

If a person failed to vote in November or has changed their address, they must re-register.

And while we are about it, may we pass along a little information concerning the "chain of command" of PTA?

At the top of the heap is the National Congress of Parents and Teachers, of which the California Congress of Parents and Teachers is a part. San Diego County is the Ninth District in the CCPT—Mrs. Ernest Savoy is now the president of Ninth District. There are 22 Councils in the Ninth District. In this immediate area there are two Councils. Mt. Helix Elementary PTA Council consisting of 22 elementary school PTA Units within the La Mesa Spring Valley and Lemon Grove School District boundaries. Mrs. John S. McKee is the president.

Then there is the Foothills Secondary Council with nine Jr. High Units and seven High School PTA Units, within the boundaries of the Grossmont High School District. Foothills Council includes Units from Lakeside, El Cajon, Lemon Grove, La Mesa, Spring Valley and the Grossmont Union High School District. Mrs. Robert Graham is president of this Council.

I know it must seem confusing and maybe not very important to you—but it certainly is important to the PTA publicity chairmen to have the correct title and facts printed as they are turned in to the newspaper.

We deeply appreciate the news coverage given school and PTA affairs by your newspaper and would hope that again you would print a notice telling organizations how to write an acceptable news-story.

Sincerely,
Rosalee Graham
Pres. of Foothills Secondary Council

Dear Editor:

After several persons in Lemon Grove area called me referring to your article last week on the development of Monte Vista Lodge, I sat down long enough to read it. When I got to the last paragraph I wondered if perhaps I was really on a much coveted vacation trip to Hawaii and was only dreaming that I am working at Monte Vista Lodge 12 hours a day, 7 days a week.

If all that were needed to operate and develop such a place as Monte Vista Lodge aspires to be, was to sit behind a desk and sign a few papers, there probably would be many such places. Conversely it takes years of experience, much foresight and planning, a great deal of creativity and originality, and then the willingness and deter-

Around Our Valley:

News and Views from Spring Valley

By Tommy Thomas

Late Mrs. Fenneken Came Here In '33; Aided SV Progress

The passing of Mrs. John (Inez) Fenneken at Navy hospital on July 29 was a great loss to the area of Spring Valley around Conrad drive, for it was that area that Mrs. Fenneken helped to develop.

Mrs. Fenneken, who was just 32 at her passing, came to Spring Valley with her husband in 1933, when there were no regular roads in this area and coyotes and jack rabbits were commonly seen. The area where the Fennekens made their home was in a 30-acre parcel and at one time was owned by the late Conrad Coblancer, who previously lived in Germany.

It was Mrs. Fenneken who was instrumental in petitioning the board of supervisors for the construction of streets in that area and for finally getting one street named "Conrad Drive"—after the former owner of the 30 acres.

During World War II, Mrs. Fenneken had to "go it alone" as husband John was off to war.

INCURABLE AILMENT

John Fenneken told us that his wife had been on borrowed time since 1947, when physicians told him that she had an incurable ailment. Mrs. Fenneken was a member of the Daughters of the American Revolution, and had been since 1919. At one time she was a DAR at large through the Washington D.C. office. At another time she worked for the Red Cross in Philadelphia, Pa.

mination to plunge into the work, never once looking back and believing with all your heart and soul that it is good and worthwhile and never doubting for a minute that it will succeed. On top of that it takes work!! hard work, day and sometimes nights too.

Let's look at Monte Vista Lodge from the inside and behind the scenes. Its sole purpose is to provide a much needed service in the best possible way I can think of; taking care of retired persons like they want to live and are unable to in their own homes; giving them a new lease on life and seeing that the twilight years are filled with contentment and peace of mind. The fact that it will cost lots of money to put facilities for 230 persons on a 7 acre site and do it right is beside the point. It will, incidentally, cost $2,000,000 and not $3,000,000. If it cost half a million I would be happier.

Kenneth Hunt, my husband, is the very capable administrator of Monte Vista Lodge and I assist him in what ever area of the operation needs me most at the time. With working with the architect, planning the landscaping, training personnel for four major departments and keeping the present operation for 25 guests running smoothly, we both have more than full time employment.

May I add that I am still the principal stockholder and while I am, Monte Vista Lodge will remain first and foremost, an establishment for the finest service in the field of Retirement Homes. The fact that it will be impressive and a boon to Lemon Grove is again a by-product.

Respectfully,
Beatrice Garber Hunt

24 HOUR SERVICE

She had lived in California about 40 years, with most of that time being in and around San Diego.

Luke Likes Life Here Despite Hazard Of Horse Hobby

The West may be a wonderful place in which to live, but it has its disadvantages, also. Just ask Luke Barbour, down at 3364 Helix St. Luke's hobby is horses, and he spends many an hour astride one of his beauties. But in the past two years horse riding has been a bit disastrous to Luke.

Just a year ago one of Luke's horses fell on him, breaking his left arm. Just a week ago, Luke fell from the horse, breaking his right arm. "Guess I'll have to give up my hobby," Luke said.

But don't let him kid you. More than likely you'll see Luke in the Spring Valley parade in November, heading the mounted color guard of Con-vair (General Dynamics).

MISTAKEN IDENTITIES

I'd like to make a couple of corrections. Recently in the SVFD report we stated that Mrs. Ola Oliver of 10451 Del Rio Rd. was taken to the hospital in the S.V. ambulance. Actually, it was Mrs. Ola Webber.

Also earlier it was reported that Fire Chief Frank Berger had a broken leg. Well, he's getting around real good, for it wasn't a leg, it was his arm. He looks real good since his accident.

Weather Suspect In Sick Calls

There has been quite a bit of sickness in and around our Valley lately, probably due to the dry weather.

Mr. and Mrs. (Allan and Pat) Pous of 3912 Helix st., have been reported on the "sick list" as has been Mrs. Ted (Charlotte) Phillips of 3546 Helix.

Mrs. Jess (Gladys) Collins of 9258 Kenwood dr., who spent several days in the hospital due to a serious operation, is reported home again, and able to take some nourishment. She is still a rather sick individual. Let's all keep her in our prayers.

TAYLORS ENTERTAIN

Rev. and Mrs. Roland Taylor of the Spring Valley First Baptist Church entertained out-of-town visitors recently: Rev. and Mrs. Charles Pelley of Whittier, Calif. The Pelleys are going in to the missionary field soon, but as yet are not assigned to any particular location.

LET'S GO VOTE!

There will be a school bond election on Oct. 10. Whether you are for or against the bonds, it is your duty as an American citizen to go to the polls and vote. Are you qualified? Are you registered? Be sure your answer to both questions is "YES."

Anniversaries Feted By Valley Couples

'Mind' Subject Of Christian Science Sermon

Peace and joy will keynote the Lesson-Sermon on "Mind" in all Christian Science churches on Sunday. The Golden Text is from Philippians
(4:4, 7), "Rejoice in the Lord always; and again I say, Rejoice." And the peace of God, which passeth all understanding, shall keep your hearts and minds through Christ Jesus.

Paul declares in his second epistle to the Corinthians (1:3, 4), "Blessed be God, even the Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, the Father of mercies,
and the God of all comfort;
Who comforteth us in all our tribulation, that we may be able to comfort them which are in any trouble, by the comfort wherewith we ourselves are comforted of God." And he counsels the Philippians (2:5),
"Let this mind be in you, which was also in Christ Jesus."

Operation B.I.G. Sets 50,000 Jobs as Goal

A major industrial development plan for San Diego County that will encompass every segment of the county's economy, including Lemon Grove and Spring Valley is under way today.

Purpose of the program is to bring new industry to San Diego County, according to Milton F. Fillius Jr., chairman of the BIG—Build Industrial Growth campaign—with a goal of creating 50,000 new jobs in the next 10 years.

Fillius, executive vice president of National Steel and Shipbuilding, said that county officials had pledged support of the BIG program.

David W. Bird, county supervisor for the Lemon Grove-Spring Valley area, in discussing the plan pointed out that "it is apparent to a majority of the residents of our county that additional development is necessary to stabilize our economy."

BIG is the culmination of seven months of basic activity by Chambers of Commerce throughout the county to activate a hard-hitting, and well-conceived plan of action to bring new industry to San Diego County," Fillius said.

Fillius said that the BIG program, utilizing every type of modern-day communication, would spell out the industrial needs of the county, define the types of industry that San Diego County can expect to attract, and tell exactly what is being done and what is planned.

"Most importantly, this long-range plan requires the participation of every citizen. The day has passed when a few civic-minded businessmen can go out and get a plant. General public understanding and support is vital to our success," Fillius pointed out.

"We have lived too long in dependence upon government spending, and too precariously. Our plan calls for industrial development and diversity that will provide certain growth in jobs, economic stability, and a broader tax base," Fillius explained.

Such a plan, he said, is long over due. He promised that a county-wide plan would be pressed forward with vigor and with speed.

"We have a lot of ground to make up. Other areas have been at this business of industrial development for years longer than we have. But we have a lot to offer, and we have a sound and workable plan that will get the job done," he declared.

The county-wide plan was initiated and conceived by the San Diego Chamber of Commerce through its Industrial Steering Committee, of which Fillius is chairman.

"Make no mistake, our prime interest is new industry for the entire county." We know that every community in the county would like to strengthen its economy and provide more jobs for its residents," Fillius concluded.

Farmer-Employers Affected By New Insurance Bill

Some farmer-employers in the county of San Diego, as well as many other employers of agricultural labor served by the San Diego Audit District Office of the Department of Employment will be affected by a 1961 amendment to the California Unemployment Insurance Code (Assembly Bill 1663) which extends disability insurance and hospital benefit coverage to agricultural workers.

Hagen Christensen, departmental auditor-in-charge, said he will be glad to provide detailed information to individual farmers on request to assist them in determining their status under the new law. Department of Employment headquarters in Sacramento will send registration forms and instructions to about 35,000 employers of agricultural labor who will be identified by federal records available to the state. Auditor Christensen requested, therefore, that farmers wait until after September 1, 1961 before contacting him at 2100 Fourth ave., and the telephone number is BE 2-2187.

Apartments Needed For Students Of Grossmont College

Grossmont College's Office of the Dean of Student Affairs has today issued a request to the local boards of realtors for La Mesa and El Cajon to furnish lists of furnished and unfurnished apartments and rooms that might be rented by prospective students of the college. Several inquiries have been received at the college concerning living accommodations in the immediate Grossmont College area.

Persons who will have such rentals available for the fall term, which commences with testing September 5 and classes September 11, are urged to remind their real estate agents that they would rent to college men and women.

Phone directly to Grossmont College Housing Office, Office of the Dean of Student Affairs, and give full information concerning the type of rental, rent, pertinent details, address of rental and the name, address, and phone number of the prospective landlord.

Area Schools Gird For Student Onslaught

Junior College, Monte Vista High School Added

Housekeeping has been all but completed at the four levels of school in the Spring Valley-Lemon Grove area readying for September 11 when approximately 12,500 young people will again seek the sometime elusive commodity called knowledge.

A brand new junior college will attract about 600 students and a brand new high school (Monte Vista) will have a population of 900. Mt. Miguel will handle an overcapacity population of 2,025 and the elementary and junior high school levels of combined Lemon Grove-Spring Valley schools will administer to 9,180. (L.G. 4,080, S.V. 5,100).

The parochial schools will house more than 800. (St. John of the Cross church school in L.G., 600; Santa Sophia Catholic church in Casa de Oro 225).

GROSSMONT JR. COLLEGE

Exciting things have happened in the months since

Grossmont College was first voted into being last November. A college home has been found, a full staff hired, and plans laid for a successful opening September 11. All this activity has been carefully watched by the citizens of the district with apparent approval and high interest.

A great many people have become directly concerned with the college. These include those staff members and their families who have moved into the area and purchased homes, many of them in the Lemon Grove-Helix area near the college. Over 600 persons have indicated their interest in becoming students at the college by taking the Placement Tests. (The next test will be given August 17 on the Monte Vista campus at either 8:30 in the morning or 7 at night.) The Grossmont District staff has been very busy in providing the materials, budget planning, and general advice and services necessary to a successful opening. Large numbers of citizens of the community have already put in time in planning for the selection of a suitable site for the college and the passing of the proposed eight million dollar bond issue on October 10. Local and state-wide business concerns have been contacted and provisions made for the general equipment necessary to begin college operation.

Of most direct service to the college has been the dedicated consideration by the board of trustees of the new Grossmont Junior College District. These men and women have been diligent in their efforts to inform themselves on junior college matters of programming, finance, and purpose, so as to provide the best possible college in this area. It is indeed a serious consideration to bring into being in a community an institution of higher learning.

Copies of the new catalog and course schedules will be sent to students making application for admission to the college as soon as available. It is necessary to make application in addition to having transcripts from all high school and colleges attended. The student planning committee has held a number of successful meetings.

MT. MIGUEL HIGH SCHOOL
Mount Miguel high school will open its doors on September 11 with a staff of 63 teachers and counselors to handle approximately 2,025 students, representing almost 100 more than the capacity of the school. But, according to Melvin C. Grant, principal, no crowding of facilities is expected this year.

Early in the fall, a new building will be added to the campus that will be new among school buildings. Containing no windows or interior bearing walls, the module construction will make it possible to achieve complete flexibility to meet the changing needs of classes and class sizes in future years. Large lecture classes and science classes on the upper division level will use this latest addition, scheduled for completion near the middle of the year.

Registration of all students will take place on August 31 and September 1 from 8 a.m. to 12 and from 1-3 p.m. All report cards and transcripts of credit are due at this time from the student, as well as official transcripts from his previous school.

Incoming freshmen should note that Freshman Orientation Day will be September 8 from 8 a.m. to 12 noon.

Parents are reminded that no school bus service will be provided this year since all students are within the 2½ mile radius of Mount Miguel. However, a commercial bus will provide transportation over routes previously followed in the past.

With the opening of school on September 11, Mount Miguel will return to its traditional six period school day. Hours will be from 8 a.m. to 2:45 p.m. Study halls will be available on a limited basis since not all students will be required to take a study hall.

Although school does not begin for students until Sept. 11, all teachers will attend a one-week workshop beginning on Sept. 5.

Teachers new to the Miguel campus this fall are: Pearl Prine, formerly of Grossmont high school, who will teach chemistry; Harold Berg, teaching English III; and Roger K. Moreau, teaching photography and crafts, as well as coaching the swimming team.

ST. JOHN OF THE CROSS PAROCHIAL SCHOOL
St. John of the Cross Catholic school at 8175 Imperial ave., Lemon Grove, will have about the same school population this year as last, 745. One classroom was enlarged slightly but the school's capacity remains the same.

Two school buses will make three trips daily to accommodate this year's pupils when classes take up September 11. Because the school will have more applications for entrance than it has capacity, all youngsters will apply at the school at 9 a.m. Sept. 1. New students will be required to re-register between September 5 and 8. School starts September 11.

School uniforms may be bought at the school or at a designated retailer's store.

LEMON GROVE PUBLIC
There will be 13 new teachers assigned to the following schools: Lemon Grove Junior High, Mrs. Linda Ashley, girls' physical education and English; Monterey Heights, Miss Ruth Kramer, 5th grade; Mrs. Doris Sussan, 4th grade; Mrs. Barbara Edwards, 5th grade; Mount Vernon, Miss Peggy Sickler, kindergarten; Miss Ruth Bond, 2nd grade; Palm Junior High, Mr. Robert Backe, special class; San Altos, Mrs. Constance Hale, 2nd grade; Mr. Dan Long, 6th grade; San Miguel, Mrs. Ann Broadwell, 1st grade; Mrs. Henryetta Wilson, kindergarten; Vista La Mesa, Mr. Olin Martin, 4th grade; Mr. Arlo Thomas, 5th grade.

For the first time in seven years it was not necessary for S. K. Solleder, assistant superintendent, to recruit teachers out of state.

Monterey Heights will have 3 new classrooms, Mount Vernon, 4, Palm Junior High, 8 classrooms, a library and boys and girls shower and locker rooms. Vista La Mesa and San Miguel will each have a stage and teachers' dining room, built into the existing multi-purpose rooms.

There will be a total of 140 teachers which is 3 less than last year's staff. This reduction is because Lemon Grove has not increased in population and some of the classes had a somewhat light load last year. There will be no changes in administrative assignments. Mrs. Evelyn Lauritzen, principal at Golden Avenue is returning from a year's sabbatical leave during which she attended UCLA to work on her doctorate.

Last September the enrollment was 4,029. The anticipated enrollment for this September is 4,083.

Registration will be held in each school beginning the week of September 5, Monday the 4th being a holiday. Pupils who are to be entered in kindergarten must be 4 years, 9 months of age on or before September 1, 1961. Proof of birth must be presented at the time kindergarteners are registered. This may include birth certificate, public health department certificate, baptismal certificate, family Bible, etc. Parents are urged to see that their children have physical check-ups and x-rays before the opening of school.

New teachers will report for duty Tuesday, Sept. 5 and all other teachers will report on Wednesday, Sept. 6. A county-wide Professional Growth Day will be held for teachers Thursday morning, Sept. 7. School will officially begin on Monday, Sept. 11. Class lists will be posted on the front of school offices a week prior to the opening of school. Bus schedules will be announced prior to the opening of school.

PAROCHIAL SCHOOL SANTA SOPHIA

When Santa Sophia school opens September 11 an enrollment of 225 youngsters is anticipated. Pupils will come from all over the district but no buses are being provided.

Mother Assumption will be principal for the second year in a row. Classes are kindergarten through eighth grade.

Registration will be Sunday, August 20 at the school at 9800 San Juan st., Casa de Oro.

The school has been in operation three years by the Santa Sophia Catholic Church.

SPRING VALLEY-CASA DE ORO ELEMENTARY

Spring Valley public schools are in the La Mesa-Spring Valley elementary school district. In the Spring Valley-Casa de Oro section of the district there are six elementary schools and one junior high.

While no new schools will have been opened since the close of the school year, one, the Highlands elementary school was opened in March of 1961. Two kindergarten rooms and a multipurpose room at Avondale school will be new when school starts Sept. 11.

This year 153 teachers will care for the educational needs of 5,166 pupils, an increase of 280. Teachers, new to the district, will total eight: Spring Valley and Casa de Oro schools and school principals are:

Avondale Elementary - Donald Barnes, principal - Prior to coming to Avondale Barnes was assigned to Northmont Elementary School.

Bancroft Elementary - Paul Radenheimer became principal during last school year. He was a teacher in the district prior to his promotion.

Casa de Oro Elementary - Vincent Toth, principal, was assigned as a sixth grade teacher and assistant to the principal at Casa de Oro Elementary School prior to his promotion as principal.

COMBINED—The combined facilities of Monte Vista high school and Grossmont junior college on Sweetwater Springs blvd. in Casa de Oro are ready to start turning the wheels of learning among nearly 1,400 young men and women September 11.

The new high school, planned originally to relieve overcrowding at Mt. Miguel high school, was able to absorb only part of the excess when it became necessary to share space with the new junior college. Junior college will ultimately have its own facilities elsewhere.

By so doing, it calls on the college for some of its teachers.

For example, four college language teachers will also serve at Monte Vista.

The high school, on Sweetwater Springs boulevard in Casa de Oro plans on an enrollment of approximately 850 students when the facility opens for the first time September 11. Two full time counselors and 30 teachers will make up the staff.

Grossmont College Offices Now Fully Operating

Grossmont College announced today that all administrative staff members now on duty are occupying the college facilities at 3230 Sweetwater Springs blvd. This will end public inconvenience in having to come to the district offices for problems relating to college enrollment. The telephone number is now HOWARD 5-1700.

Visitors to the Monte Vista High School campus, which is also that of Grossmont College, will readily identify the college offices as the permanent building at the northwesternmost point of the campus, adjacent to the three temporary buildings. The college parking lot is the northernmost lot on Sweetwater Springs boulevard. Directional signs will be erected shortly to further identify the college part of the campus.

All student committee meetings, as well as preliminary staff meetings will now function on the shared campus.

DEMO DINNER TICKETS GOING AT LIVELY PACE

"Reserved dinner tickets for women are $15. They're $25 for men, and $40 for couples. Host Committee dinner tickets, which reserves seats at the tables set aside for our California Democratic legislators, are $100," Strauss said.

APOLOGIES GO TO GIL

Our apologies to Gil Ray, president of the Casa de Oro Chamber of Commerce (and incidentally, chairman of the County Planning Commission). Gil's picture was in last week's paper in the group at the ground-breaking ceremonies for the new Bank of America at Campo and Conrad. But somehow his name was omitted. Sorry, Gil.

INTRODUCING SONMEZ MUSTAFA OZYUREK

Turkish High School Boy Settles Down For A Year In Lemon Grove

A 17-year-old Turkish boy has arrived in Lemon Grove to spend the next year with a Lemon Grove family while he completes his high school at Mt. Miguel.

He is Sonmez Mustafa Ozyurek of the town of Manisa (near Istanbul) Turkey. An international exchange student, he is being hosted in the United States by the J. H. Poschman family of 1447 Taft st., Lemon Grove.

The Poschmans said that when they heard he was coming some months ago they engrossed themselves in books on Turkey. Sonmez had taken five hours of English a week for six years in preparation for his trip abroad.

"We're going to expose him to everything American that we can," Mr. Poschman said. And his American counterpart, 16-year-old Kirk Poschman, is constantly busy in the presence of Sonmez, explaining American things to the Turkish youngster. The fourth member of the family is Danny, 12.

TOOK 17 SUBJECTS

Asked if he expected difficulty in going to school where everything is taught in English, Sonmez said that he didn't think so. "In my country, the kids are taught as many as 17 subjects at a time. The five or six subjects taught simultaneously to a student here shouldn't be hard," he said.

In comparing Turkey and the U.S., Sonmez commented that:

New York is bigger and noisier than anyplace he's ever been.

He dislikes our rock and roll although they have something roughly equivalent in Turkey.

Our coffee is much weaker than Turkish coffee.

Some towns in Turkey are very much like Lemon Grove. Although the nearest big town to where Sonmez lives in Turkey has television, his community doesn't. He said that the household receives two daily newspapers, has access to two others and that the family frequently has roundtable discussions on things that are in the news. His mother and father are elementary school teachers.

EVERYBODY LEARNING
"We are real, real happy to have Sonmez with us," Mrs. Poschman said. She said that he isn't the only one who will be getting an education in international relations. Mr. and Mrs. Poschman will be corresponding with the boy's mother and father.

Sonmez plays the mandolin, a popular musical instrument in Turkey. Right now the Poschmans are looking for one for him so they can be entertained by his Turkish music.

Another thing that the young Turk likes, something which has taken his fancy, is the Poschman backyard swimming pool.

Sonmez' first days in a coun-

DOROTHY DIGS in the garden

Pill bugs, sow bugs, call them what you like, are unpleasant things to have around your garden.

Pill bugs, you know, are not insects. They belong to the shell fish family. Whereas a good spray with Dieldrin will kill those near the surface of the soil, I, personally, like to improve on this method by a long-lasting treatment with a Destruxol sow bug and cut worm bait. Such a bait scattered in the moist places where pill bugs are numerous, and on the soil underneath plants whose foliage grows close to the ground, is an appetizing meal which will continue to attract and destroy them, week after week. As it is watered down into the soil and decomposes there, it constitutes a perpetual control. Whereas such a treatment does not leave dead pill bugs apparent over the surface of the soil, as a spray with Dieldrin does, it very effectively cuts down on pill bug population constantly until you will be practically untroubled by them.

CIVIL DEFENSE: A Series

Preparation Of Your Shelter

With the development of more powerful nuclear weapons, evacuation has become the best defense against the blast and fire resulting from the explosion of these weapons. However, to be successful there must be sufficient warning time for evacuation, and sufficient warning time cannot be assured for everyone.

In many cases, the construction of family shelters against the blast and heat effects of large nuclear weapons would be impracticable because of building and cost factors. Family shelters against nuclear radiation—radioactive fallout—are practicable and will be needed no matter where you live because harmful radioactive fallout can occur hundreds of miles from the explosion of a large nuclear weapon. You should read the OCDM publication MP-15, The Family Fallout Shelter.

PROCEDURE
1. The following should be considered in choosing the site and type of construction of your home shelter against fallout radiation:

(a). For lowest cost, choose a corner in your basement, bearing in mind that if the shelter is to double as protection against tornadoes the southwest corner is the most desirable. The shelter should be strong enough to support the debris load if your house should collapse, and should have enough shielding material around and over it to reduce the penetration of nuclear radiation to safe levels.

(b). If your house does not have a basement or if it is not feasible to build a basement shelter, you can build at a little greater cost an outside underground shelter. Choose a site for your underground shelter that will not be covered by debris if your house should be blown down. The more earth cover the better, up to a maximum of 3 feet.

(c). If the water level in the ground is too high, an aboveground shelter may be built. This shelter could also be used as a toolhouse or storage shed.

(d). Five types of family fallout shelters are described in The Family Fallout Shelter.

2. You will have to decide which type shelter will best suit your family needs—a basement corner room shelter, or an outside shelter. Building the family shelter may be done by a contractor or by members of the family. As a family project, one person should act as construction superintendent, and other members of the family should serve as helpers.

You will need some kind of emergency lighting because electric power often fails first in a disaster. Keep a flashlight in your shelter.

4. Since radio will be your immediate source of official information and instructions (640 and 1240 kc. on your standard AM radio dial), you should label these on your radio dial now.

The broadcasting industry and the Government, working together, have devised a special system of AM (Standard) radio broadcasting to bring you official word on what to do in time of emergency.

The system is officially entitled "Plan for CONTROL of Electromagnetic RADIATIONS"—CONELRAD for short.

Under the CONELRAD emergency broadcasting system, you will be able to receive radio programs originating from three different sources—local, State, and national. Programs originating locally will be broadcast direct. Line connections are arranged for programs originating on a State or regional basis. By using the existing network structures and line connections between stations, officials can broadcast programs which will reach most of the country.

You will not be able to use your regular radio if electric power is cut off, so it is wise to have a portable, battery-operated radio which can be taken to your shelter. You should also have extra batteries for your radio.

5. You should have a first aid kit in or near your shelter. The recommended list of contents is described in OCDM leaflet, L-12, First Aid: Emergency Kit, Emergency Action, revised June 1960. All members of your family should read this leaflet, and you should keep a copy handy.

6. You should have a 2-week supply of food and water on hand for emergency use. Probably you have a partial supply of food in your refrigerator and cupboards. You should add a stock of canned and dried foods that can be eaten without cooking, such as soups and juices, fish, milk, and meat. Avoid foods that would increase thirst. Store this emergency food in your evacuation kit or near the family shelter.

BALANCED EMERGENCY SUPPLY OF FOOD

Fruit and juices, vegetables, soups, milk, instantaneous drinks, canned meat and fish, baby food, raisins and chocolate, packaged cereals and dried foods.

Your emergency supplies should include drinking water in bottles or jars, packed to avoid leakage. Store at least 7 gallons for each member of the family. Remember that milk, fruit juices, and bottled beverages can also be used. Water-packed fruits and vegetables also will give you extra liquids for emergency drinking purposes. Another source is your hot water heater, which usually will provide 30 or 60 gallons of water, depending on the size of the tank.

7. Other needed supplies which should be in or near your shelter include blankets, warm clothes for cold weather, pliers or a wrench, heavy gloves, paper cups and plates, eating utensils, extra bulbs and batteries for your flashlight and portable radio, a supply of old newspapers, toilet tissue, sanitary napkins, invalid supplies if you have illness in the house, and disposable diapers if you have a baby. Also provide escape tools such as a pick, shovel, crowbar, or ax.

You also should have available spare washcloths, towels, soap, matches, a can opener, one or more cooking utensils, a small compact cooking unit, a small covered pail or can

Mother Of SV's Everett Lucas Passes In East

Mrs. Betty Lucas, 68, who lived for two years with her son and family—the Everett Lucas's of 9160 Lamar St., Spring Valley—passed away last week in Minneapolis, Minn. from an apparent heart attack. Son Everett flew east for the funeral.

Mrs. Lucas, who returned to Minnesota about three years ago, had been a member of the Spring Valley Woman's Club and the home department, a branch of the Farm Bureau. Her husband passed away about 12 years ago.

Besides her son, Everett, Mrs. Lucas is survived by two other sons; a daughter, 20 grandchildren and four great-grandchildren.

A chart should be posted in the family shelter showing the exact location of each item of emergency supplies and tools.

Civil Defense Courses, Better Driver Training Coming To High Schools

Grossmont high school district plans fall classes in cooperation with the County Civil Defense Program. Under auspices of the adult school the following courses are set:

Emergency Survival, Care and Identification of the Dead, Fire Fighting for Householders, Traffic Control Aides, Red Cross Standard First Aid, Care of the Sick and Injured, Radiological Meter Operators, Field Operations for Radiological Meters, Control and Evaluation of Radiological Hazards, Light Duty Rescue, Welfare Program, and Emergency Mass Feeding. Schools in this district also will improve behind-the-wheel driving training. This is being made possible through a lease of 12 drive-trainers. These simulate road conditions requiring drivers to make the right decision in operation of the accelerator, brake and steering wheel.

Research in Los Angeles shows that the devices help reduce accidents.

New Monte Vista High Buildings To Get Full Usage

Maximum use of the buildings at the Monte Vista High School site, which will also serve as the initial campus for the new Grossmont College, was predicted today by Stanley A. McClintic, Monte Vista high school principal and John S. Hansen, Grossmont college president.

The new plant, which was designed to accommodate 1,800 high school students, will be occupied this fall by nearly 900 high school and 700 college students during the day, plus an estimated additional 200 students in evening college classes. A portion of the plant will be used exclusively by the high school and another area reserved for college use; however, joint use of specialized facilities in science, music, art, business and physical education is planned.

The Monte Vista high school administrative staff is now on duty at the new campus, but the college administrative staff will continue to be located at the Grossmont District Administrative Office until approximately August 11.

Safeway Opens New Store To Serve Valley-Grove

A new Safeway store opened this week to serve families of the Spring Valley, Lemon Grove area. It was announced by Merle E. Mantle, Safeway's S.D. division manager.

The store is located at 420 S. Meadowbrook dr., in Paradise Hills just south of La Presa and Lomita Village.

The new store is 19,320 sq. ft. in size with an 11,000 sq. ft. sales room and provides parking for 116 cars. The building is of the familiar peaked roof design which is characteristic of many new Safeway stores. The salesroom is equipped with four mechanical checkstands, 60 ft. of refrigerated produce cases, 120 ft. of frozen food cases and 68 ft. of meat cases. It also provides 32 ft. of door-less reach-in dairy box and 68 ft. of three deck delicatessen cases.

Automatic Magic Carpet self-opening doors are provided for easy access. The building is designed for palletized delivery of merchandise which makes possible the mechanized handling of freight, and provides greater customer convenience. Some 1,144 sq. ft. refrigerated storage boxes are placed in the stockroom for dairy products, frozen foods, produce and meat.

HARRY MAY

The manager of the new store is Harry May, who formerly managed the Safeway store at Florida and El Cajon blvd. Harold Brown is assistant manager. Jim Massery is produce department manager and Fred Cederberg is meat department manager.

True enjoyment comes from activity of the mind and exercise of the body; the two are ever united.

Sorority Sponsors Italian Boys' Aid

The Beta Chapter of the Phi Alpha Sorority has taken a little Italian boy to its collective bosom according to Mrs. Ronnie Graeme of 1734 El Prado, Lemon Grove. Mrs. Graeme is vice president of the chapter.

The boy, three and a-half year old Luigi Sollo, who lives with his brother and parents in the outskirts of Naples, will receive $12.50 a month from the group making it possible for Luigi to receive packages from the Save the Children Federation. The packages will contain food, warm clothing, school supplies, blankets, towel, soap and some money to buy other things. "Most important of all," reported Dr. Willard Beatty, vice president of the Federation, "it will provide letters from America where a group of young people he didn't even dream existed have befriended him."

LUIGI TYPICAL

"Luigi is typical of thousands of children whose needs are reported to us from our field offices," Dr. Beatty said. "The children thrive on the love and friendship of their sponsors. The sponsors, on their part, find true enrichment of their lives from this relationship."

Luigi's father is an unskilled mason who finds work only in the summer months. His mother, a resourceful housekeeper, watches over Luigi and his 5-month-old brother. The father's income is insufficient to meet his family's daily needs so the Beta chapter's sponsorship is a real Godsend to the entire family.

The Phi Alpha sorority of which Mrs. Graeme is an officer in her chapter, is a social group with beginnings in the classrooms of S.D. junior college. The chapter has projects for retarded children and other youngsters' aid programs.

Save the Children Federation, a 30-year-old non-sectarian international organization with headquarters in Norwalk, Connecticut, assists needy children throughout the world by means of child sponsorships, family, school and community self-help programs and an annual clothing collection undertaken by America's millions of school children.

CIVIL DEFENSE PLANS READY IF NEEDED

"The long established civil defense plans of the City of San Diego and of other cities in the county are ready for use if they are needed," William B. Marty, newly appointed head of the Unified San Diego County Civil Defense and Disaster Organization, has announced.

County Wants School Land Exchanged For Building Permit

SAN DIEGO (CNS)—Grossmont Union High School District protested Friday to the County Planning Commission against requirements that it give land to the county and then improve it for streets to get approval of plans for an addition to Mt. Miguel High School.

The commission on July 14 had approved the school building plans, on the condition that the district give enough land for a 42-foot right of way from the center line of Blossom lane and enough more for a 25-foot radius corner at the intersection of the new southerly line of Blossom and the westerly line of Sweetwater road.

Dr. Willis H. Miller, county planning director, submitted a memorandum and letter to commissioners in which he suggested that the planning staff be authorized to "negotiate" with the school district over the land to be given and the improvements.

College Adopts Budget

A budget of $369,254 was adopted by the board of trustees of the Grossmont Junior College District at its meeting Monday evening.

The only change made in the publication budget was inclusion of $17,495 to be paid to Grossmont High School District for rental of facilities at Monte Vista.

A bond election has been set for Oct. 10. It will be to get funds to finance the junior college building fund. It was pointed out at the meeting that Monte Vista facilities won't do in 1962 when a new freshman class is added to the second year class.

WANTS FLOOD CONTROL

In the light of recent flooding conditions within the county, the board of directors of the San Diego County Farm Bureau has adopted a resolution to the effect that permits for subdivisions and houses in localities where ample provisions for flood control have not been taken, should not be granted, as they already have and can result in serious damage, which would adversely affect our economic structure.
